

Application Form: New Members to the Global Mangrove Alliance

Introduction

This form serves as the submission by any government, inter-governmental organization, non-governmental organization, corporate or other entity to become a Global Mangrove Alliance (GMA) member. Under the GMA Membership Procedure (Appendix I), the admission of new members is a decision made by the Coordinating Members of the GMA. Applicants are encouraged to engage with the Coordinating Members prior to submitting a formal application. This completed form, along with the attached supplemental materials, will be provided to Coordinating Members for review.

Membership

All members of the Global Mangrove Alliance enjoy opportunities to contribute to, and benefit from, the collaborative spirit with which the Alliance is organized and run. In addition to joining efforts to raise the profile of mangroves and the threats facing these tropical ecosystems, members may collaborate on field work, policy initiatives and campaigns. There is also coordinated activity amongst members before and during events, including international meetings, conferences and workshops. Working groups and committees – open only to GMA members – lead on the development of communication and outreach strategies as well as science and knowledge sharing. Over time, as the Alliance workplan requires refinement, GMA members receive unique opportunities to review progress and contribute new ideas.

The Global Mangrove Alliance Membership Procedure (Appendix I) outlines the following criteria to become a member:

- Demonstrate current work and/or capacity to work or support mangrove conservation and restoration.
- Commit to a measurable action(s) to help reach the goal of expanding the global extent of mangrove habitats by 20% by 2030.
 - Provide yearly reports on measurable action(s),
- Pledge to work in collaboration with other Alliance Members on mangrove activities to ensure cost-effectiveness and avoid duplication of efforts.
- Provide sustained support of the planning and implementation of the GMA's overall strategy
